

GET FIELD READY

HUMANITARIAN & DISASTER RESPONSE SIMULATION TRAINING

APRIL 5-8, 2018

Johns Hopkins University Campus
Baltimore, MD

Unique training opportunity for entry level humanitarians, healthcare professionals and public health specialists

EARLY BIRD SPECIAL 1,500 USD BEFORE JANUARY 31

DO YOU HAVE WHAT IT TAKES?

THE HUMANITARIAN & DISASTER RESPONSE SIMULATION TRAINING

HELPS PREPARE AND EQUIP HUMANITARIANS FOR THE FIELD
AND ENSURE THEY DELIVER HIGH QUALITY AID IN A SAFE AND SECURE MANNER.

The training is designed to simulate a complex humanitarian emergency that requires a comprehensive understanding of war, natural disasters and forced displacement, and the impact of cultural contexts on the affected populations. Participants are immersed in the simulation for the whole weekend, working in multidisciplinary, NGO-based teams, each tasked with a series of activities serving the fictional populations.

"AN INCREDIBLE
EXPERIENCE! I FEEL
MUCH BETTER
PREPARED SHOULD I
PURSUE FIELD
WORK IN THE FUTURE."

For more information, visit www.projecthope.org